

MBI Travel Award Application

Travel awards provided by the McKnight Brain Institute (MBI) cover travel expenses to attend nationally and internationally visible, brain or neuroscience-related, conferences with a specific purpose of presenting research findings for platform presentations or abstracts with a press conference. Applicant must be the presenting author on an accepted abstract. The MBI travel awards are available to eligible grad students, postdocs, fellows, residents, and junior faculty (within first six years of appointment as faculty at UF or elsewhere, non-tenure track) of MBI departments, labs, and programs. If awarded, support from the McKnight Brain Institute should be acknowledged at the time of presentation and on all related materials.

Covered expenses include registration, airfare, lodging, meal per diems, parking, taxi, and tolls not to exceed a total of $2,000. Limited to one award per individual, per fiscal year (July - June). Approved awards will be provided in the form of reimbursement of expenses to the traveler's home department after the conference. The home department will process the Travel Authorization and Expense Report (ER) as required by UF, and submit the completed ER to the MBI for reimbursement.
